Reading: The World Around Us

We will continue on in our unit in which we are identifying and explaining key events in stories. We will learn how to look for the central message, or main idea of a story- this is a huge 3rd grade skill.

Writing: Writing Skills

We will work on some important writing skills, such as forming complete and detailed sentences in the next few weeks.

Math: Modeling with Data

We will begin unit 2 next week. In that unit, students will represent data. Students will describe, summarize, and compare data. Also, keep practicing multiplication & division facts at home!

Science/Social Studies:

Economics

We have been discussing types of resources as well as our economic choices during social studies. We will wrap up economics next week and have the finale of the "The Big Squeeze."

Please no scary masks, fake weapons, painted bloody faces or gory costumes.

Candle Fundraiser: This goes until November 5!! Keep selling!

From The Teacher:

It was a fun week with the class. They are really figuring out the routines and expectations, and we do see them thriving.

November is almost here, and the weather has been interesting already this fall. Please send proper attire for the various types of weather. Next week will contain some Halloween activities, but we will also be learning. If any parents would like to come in to help with the party, please let us know! With Halloween being on a Thursday, please make sure students have fun "trick or treating" but also get enough rest to make it through the rest of the week and stay healthy!

Next week is also Miss Knight's last week as our student teacher. She will be heading over to finish up her student teaching at the middle school. Hopefully she will come visit in the spring. Have a great LONG weekend with your child!
