Around the Campfire

Reading: The World Around Us

We will start a new unit discussing the main idea of stories. We will begin reading a story called, "The Moon Seems to Change." This story will also connect to science.

Writing: Arrays

Students drafted their fictional narrative. We will spend next week peer editing and revising preparing for their final draft.

Math: Multiplication

We spent some time working with arrays as a multiplication strategy. Students seemed to understand the concept, which should make learning about area easier. Please practice multiplication facts at home to help their fluency!

Science/Social Studies:

Force and Motion

During science, students will start to learn about force and motion. We will continue to use exploration to dig deeper into our learning.

From The Teacher:

We had another good week! This week we started our intervention groups for both reading and math. These intervention groups will go until December. They are intended to help your child with his or her needs in reading and math. With that said the students are finally getting in to routine. By the end of next week, they should have our daily routine pretty much memorized. We have started to schedule parent/teacher conferences for later in the month. Please let us know if there is a certain day/time that works best for you. We can be flexible with times to accommodate schedules. Also, next week Candle Fundraising packets will be sent home- be on the lookout! This fundraising covers all of our field trip and class expenses for the year. Have a great weekend! ☺ Mrs. Anderson & Miss Knight

Please feel free to call, send DOJO message, or e-mail me any questions or concerns about your child. Thank you!
